Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

This is an open letter to friends of Project Graduation. I am asking for your continued support of this project with a small donation of cash that is used to pay for the many activities and food for an evening of fun. If you prefer to donate a gift item, this will be given directly to the graduate during the all-night chemical-free celebration.

This year we will be attending the Racquetball Club again. The activities scheduled for the evening will be movies, racquetball, volleyball, sauna, video games, a live band and lots of food, with soft drinks to wash it all down.

I do appreciate the support you have shown in the past and would like to take this opportunity to thank those who have already donated: Bryant Pond Baptist Church, Bryant Pond Village Store, Tom's Custom Meats, Stowell Products, Bryant Pond Fire Department, Sweet Violets Realty, Marathon Realty, Gordon & Bev Brown, Hearty Momm, Shear Design, Mt. ### To the Editor:

In May 1988—that's one year away—the Maine Low-Level Radioactive Waste Authority is scheduled to announce three preliminary candidate areas for a Maine low-level radioactive waste disposal facility. One of them may be near your favorite hiking or snowmobile route or even your back yard.

Right now relatively few Maine residents could tell you what the Low-Level Radioactive Waste Authority does or name any of its seven members. Probably not many more could define low-level radioactive waste, except as something they'd rather not have around. Ask about the technicalities of state regulation—what role the Department of Environmental Protection plays, for example—and you'd get even more blank stares.

But in May 1989, if the Authority sticks to its schedule, a lot of people are suddenly going to wish they'd known all these things in May 1988, while they could try to shape future recommendations, instead of resisting recommendations already made.

The specific important thing that's happening right now is the Department of Environmental Protection's June 2 public hearing. The hearing begins at 9:30 a.m. at the August Civic Center. It's part of the process by which the Board of Environmental Protection (BEP) adopts rules to judge an application to build a Maine low-level radioactive waste disposal/storage facility. When the Low-Level Radioactive Waste Authority chooses its preliminary areas next year, it will look for places that can meet BEP's requirements. The rules, then, will help determine whose hiking or snowmobile trail—or back yard—the facility will be closest to.

You can get a copy of the draft rules and see what they say and how they might affect your favorite parts of Maine by writing to Mary Rudd James, Department of Environmental Protection, State House Station #17, Augusta, 04333. If coming to a Thursday hearing in Augusta is inconvenient, but you'd like to react to the draft rules, Ms. James will accept written comments up to 5 p.m. on July 1.

The Maine Department of Environmental Protection is preparing to evaluate an application for a low-level radioactive waste facility and the Maine Low-Level Radioactive Waste Authority is preparing to file such an application within the next couple of years, because of federal laws. Congress has directed each state to make provisions for disposing of low-level waste generated in the state, either by joining in an interstate agreement (called a compact) to build a regional facility, or by building an in-state facility. Low-level waste is generated in Maine—by 42 different generators in 1987, according to the annual survey done by the Department of Environmental Protection. Five of these generators shipped their waste for disposal. Maine has not joined a regional compact. We may join one sometime;

To the Editor:

Your "Opinions" column on page two of last week's "Citizen" (May 18) contains a departure from fact that needs correcting or, to be more kind, perhaps clarification.

You state: "So the town is in line to receive a half-million dollars to pave Col. Dyke Field. It matters not to the feds that there are only 11 people who have planes at the field." The implication here is that the "feds" have money for airports but not for sewer plants.

However, one must go a step further and ask where do these funds come from? The answer is the Airports and Airways Trust Fund. Where does the Airports and Airways Trust Fund get these monies? Five sources: (1) tax on airline tickets, (2) tax on air cargo shipments, (3) tax on aviation gasoline, (4) tax on jet fuels and (5) international departure taxes. These five taxes are dedicated funds to be used only for aviation purposes and none of these funds come from general taxation. If you don't fly commercially, ship air cargo or purchase aviation fuels, you don't pay one penny in taxes to pave Col. Dyke Field. I hope that this letter serves to clarify the funding procedure involved. There simply is no substitute for fact!

John B. Head, Member
Airport Advisory Committee
1976-1988

The editorial did not state that the federal government was using tax money to pave the runway. It stated that the federal government's programs favor frills—such as spending a half million dollars to pave a runway for 11 resident aircraft—instead of more essential needs—such as sewer plants. ## No contest in Bethel selectman's election; 3 vie for school board

With nomination papers all in for Bethel's municipal election June 14, there is only one candidate for the selectman's seat up for determination. That is the incumbent himself, Peter Haines. Mr. Haines is also unopposed for another three-year term as assessor.

On the school board side of the contest, voters will have a chance to vote for two candidates out of three standing for election. Cheryl Eliot is seeking a second term. Jeri Brooks is finishing out the unexpired term of Kay Chabourne and is seeking a term in her own right. Brenda Packard is making her first try for seat on the SAD #4 Board of Directors. The two directors' seats to be filled are for three-year terms.

Newry planners approve Bear River townhouses

The Newry Planning Board last Wednesday voted unanimously to approve plans for a 20-unit townhouse project on the Bear River.

The project, which is being developed by MCW Corp., calls for the construction of five buildings, each containing four three-bedroom units.

The planning board's approval is contingent upon the developers providing a detailed financial statement before construction begins, on their erecting a barrier of evergreen trees to reduce headlight glare on an abutter's house, and on the stipulation that there be no further subdivision of the site.

Approximately 20 residents turned out for a public hearing on the project, held prior to the Planning Board meeting. No one at the meeting argued overtly against the project, but a number of people but until we do, the Authority is required by state and federal laws to continue to prepare to build an in-state facility.

Separate from both the Low-Level Radioactive Waste Authority and the Department of Environmental Protection is the Maine Advisory Commission on Radioactive Waste. The state Legislature established this 14 member body to provide unbiased advice to legislators and the governor and to promote public knowledge and understanding of radioactive waste issues. If you'd like more information on the topics touched on in this letter, you're welcome to write to the Advisory Commission on Radioactive Waste, State House Station #120, Augusta, 04333; or call 289-3059 during office hours; or call 1-800-453-4013 to leave a message on our answering machine.

CMP powerline

tal Impact Statement, which will have to be done before the federal government can act on the power purchase proposal, said: "By far, the greatest concern expressed by the public during [the hearings] was over the potential effects of the project on human health, especially the effects of electromagnetic fields in the vicinity of the operating transmission lines." The impact plan would require CMP to construct a 92-mile line of high-voltage cables on towers over 100 feet tall through the mountains of western Maine.

"Other concerns commonly expressed during [the hearings]," according to the DOE report, "included the effects of the project on ecosystems, visual aesthetics, socioeconomic and land use." All these topics will be dealt with in the environmental impact statement, the DOE promised.

Of the 335 comments received by the agency, there were also 59 that proposed alternative energy sources, such as wind, solar, cogeneration, and conservation. One comment that DOE reviewers found particularly interesting was a suggestion to run the high-voltage line through existing gas and oil pipelines, instead of on towers. The DOE report said Portland Pipeline Co.—which controls the pipelines between Canada and Portland, through the Bethel area—has indicated it would be interested in discussing the matter.

The DOE also noted that CMP's preliminary environmental report is now available for public inspection. Copies are available, on request, from the DOE Freedom of Information Library, Forest Building, 1000 Independence Ave. SW, Washington, D.C. 20585. A copy has also been deposited at the Andover Public Library.

The company's environmental report will serve as a basis for the environmental impact statement, which will be prepared by the Energy and Environmental Systems Division of the Argonne National Laboratory, under the guidance and review of the DOE.

The draft environmental impact statement is expected to be released in February 1989. Following a period of public review and comment, the final environmental impact statement is expected to be released in June 1989. The DOE will make its final decision sometime thereafter.

At the state level, the Public Utilities Commission is still holding hearings on whether the import plan is in the best interest of the state's energy needs. At the last session of the Legislature, CMP pushed through legislation amending the state's energy policy to accommodate the importation plan and giving the Legislature power to disregard the PUC's findings on the matter. The PUC is expected to make its recommendation in October.

ple asked questions regarding plans for future development on the site, on landscaping and lighting plans, septic system location and related matters.

Roger Wheeler, a principal in MCW Corp., told the hearing the firm had "no plans at this time" for further development of either the townhouse site or the adjoining 20-acre-plus parcel from which it had been split off. And deed restrictions, he said, would prevent purchasers from undertaking any further form of commercial development.

Planning Board Chairman Jim Sysko also noted that any further development at the site would require DEP review. As to the landscaping and outside lighting, Mr. Wheeler said the developers wanted to leave trees on the site as undisturbed as possible and that final lighting plans had not yet been worked out but would probably not include large outside lights.

The headline issue was not so easily resolved. Bill Pooley, who owns a house on Rte. 26 directly across from the planned access road, argued that headlights from cars leaving the townhouses would shine directly in his living room picture window.

In an earlier letter to the Planning Board, Mr. Pooley pointed to a similar situation with cars leaving Sunday River. "At the first Planning Board meeting I attended in April," he wrote, "one of the board members made the point rather strongly that lights from traffic in the Sunday River area were a bane of existence for some folks whose house they blasted every night."

He asked the board to have a professional traffic engineer evaluate the problem.

The developers countered that they had already moved the planned entrance of the access road 20 feet to the south in order to change the angle of the headlights. That change, coupled with a screen of evergreens, would greatly reduce light shining on Mr. Pooley's house, they contended.

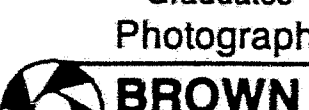

The Planning Board, including two members who had visited the site one evening to study the problem, concurred, but Mr. Pooley remained unconvinced. "I want to go on record as saying I'm not satisfied with the resolution of the road problem," he said.

Chairman Sysko said the board expects to sign off on the project at its next regular meeting, scheduled for Wednesday, June 1. The meeting will be held in the town office, beginning at 7 p.m.

cleaned out, the selectmen noted, and heating and plumbing needs to be installed, including restroom facilities for the handicapped.

In preliminary findings on the water supply for the building, James Cyr reported that the water seemed clear and drinkable, with no visible sediment. Results from samples sent to state laboratories will be back this week. The same well will supply both the new town office building and the newly erected building that houses Mr. Cyr's business, the D & H Construction Company. If there are problems with the water, he said, a well can be drilled for about $1,000 to supply both buildings.

In other business the selectmen signed a warrant to allow dog control officer Robert Larrabee to serve warnings to 14 dog owners in the town. The 14 have not had their dogs licensed yet and will be given just seven more days to do so or face possible court action.

A public hearing will be held May 31 concerning the reconstruction of the sidewalk on Bird Hill Road. The walk was once heavily used by students going to and from school, but, according to selectman Herb Dunham, has not been used very much since the school closed. The Lakes Association will meet Saturday, May 28, at 10 a.m. at the new Woodstock School. The meeting will feature a speaker and a film about preserving wetlands. Selectmen will be present to hear problems and grievances concerning the lakes of Greenwood and Woodstock.

Other business, including seeking two alternates for the planning board, deciding about the heating at the schoolhouse, and dealing with fishing off the bridge, was postponed until Ron Smith is able to meet with the other selectmen.

A fixed-grip quad chairlift with a capacity of 2,400 skiers per hour will carry skiers to "White Heat."

In addition to the two-diamond trail, three intermediate, one advanced and one novice trail are being cut at White Cap. This will bring the total of interconnected trails at Sunday River to 56 on five mountain peaks. All trails at White Cap, including "White Heat," will be added to Sunday River's snowmaking system, increasing the snowmaking coverage to 370 acres—88 percent of the skiing terrain.

Construction is expected to start soon on the 15,000-square-foot base lodge at White Cap adjacent to D.W. McKeen's Restaurant. White Cap Base Lodge will house a cafeteria and lounge, checkroom, ski patrol and restrooms. A third CrisSports Ski Shop featuring the latest in technical fashions and equipment and a rental shop featuring high-performance equipment are also planned for White Cap Base Lodge.

Appeals Board hearing set for Thursday, June 9

The Bethel Appeals Board will meet Thursday, June 9, to consider two cases on appeal from the Planning Board.

Both cases stem from differing interpretations of what constitutes a change of use under the town's new site plan review ordinance. In both cases—an apartment house in West Bethel and a storefront in Bethel—the owners argue the ordinance does not apply, while the Planning Board argues that it does apply. (See last week's Citizen.)

Town Counsel Geoff Hole, of Portland, is expected to present the Planning Board's position, while private attorneys are expected to present the views of the two property owners concerned. It will be the first cases the Appeals Board has had to deal with for a number of years—since the Opera House case.

The meeting will be at Telstar, beginning at 7 p.m.

Newry's pumper all set

The selectmen met last Tuesday for an all-day session. Work is progressing on the new fire station, they learned. The cement slab was poured last week and the framing is nearly completed. Fire Chief Virgil Conkright reported that the tank and pump has arrived and been installed in the Jeep pickup truck, and the truck is now ready for limited service.

A two-hour training session was held Monday evening (May 16) and Chief Conkright reported it was very successful. Some hose, couplings, nozzles, etc. have been acquired, in addition to the equipment Newry already had. The chief said the old hose had been tested and found to be in good condition.

Attending the training session Monday night were Chief Conkright, Willard Wright, Bradley Wright, Mike Conkright, Randall Brooke, Alan Fleet, James Bennett, Clifford Hillier and John Gauthier. Others have expressed an interest in joining the volunteer fire department.

The chief demonstrated the pumper to the selectmen last Tuesday morning. This Tuesday, the chief was in to talk with the selectmen about a radio for the new pumper.

A representative of the Department of Human Services called at the office to discuss rules for welfare cases, necessary forms, etc. Newry has had very few welfare cases in the past several years.

In the afternoon, the selectmen worked setting values on new construction, and planned to meet again Friday to work on assessing property at the Sunday River Ski Resort and on personal property. This week they completed work on the assessing and began entering amounts into the computer.

Which lands should the state try to purchase?

Last fall, Western Maine residents strongly supported a bond issue calling for the state to spend $35 million over four years to purchase "Land for Maine's Future." Next Tuesday they can let it be known just how they think that money should be spent.

The last in a statewide series of workshops on the issue is scheduled to be held at Sunday River Skiway. Members of the Land for Maine's Future Board—an executive department that reports to the governor—will conduct the workshop.

In order to allow as many people as possible to attend the two-hour workshops, two sessions have been scheduled, one beginning at 4 p.m., the other at 7 p.m. They will be held in the South Ridge Basin Lodge.

The workshops are intended to provide public input for the Land for Maine's Future Board, which is responsible for directing the acquisition process.

Workshops have already been held in South Portland, York, Orono, Ellsworth, Presque Isle and Machias.

The workshops have drawn an average of 60 to 80 people, according to James Bernard, of the State Planning Office. Different areas of the state so far appear to have different priorities for the acquisition, Mr. Bernard said. For example, landlocked Presque Isle favored the acquisition of abandoned rail lines, which could be used for rails-to-trails projects. However in coastal areas, he said, the emphasis has been on providing public access to the water.

Input from the workshops will be used by the board in preparing a strategy draft for the acquisition. The draft is expected to be ready by the end of June, Mr. Bernard said, and public hearings on it will be held in July and August.

Mr. Bell's appointment to the middle school position and his salary had been approved at the preceding board meeting. He said at that meeting, however, that the manner in which the board had handled his salary caused him to have second thoughts about coming to the district.

At that meeting the board had initially turned down the recommended salary of $33,000 plus benefits. Later, following an executive session and further public discussion, that salary figure was approved. Mr. Bell told the board members he had been embarrassed by the public process and had to rethink his decision to accept the position.

In the interim between the meetings, however, Mr. Bell returned a signed contract, according to Superintendent DeWaine Craig.

The principal-to-be is currently a team leader and teacher in the Auburn Middle School. He has a bachelor's degree in geography and science from the University of Maine at Farmington and a master's degree in education from the University of Maine at Orono.

Monday evening's board meeting, which was held at the Andover Elementary School, did not adjourn until almost 11:30. Nearly two hours of the meeting was devoted to discussion and numerous votes on a student disciplinary matter involving a Telstar Middle School student who had been suspended for handing a piece of drug paraphernalia.

In accordance with the policy set by the board, the administration had suspended the student for 10 days. The student and his mother appealed the suspension to the board.

Following an executive session in which the circumstances of the incident were reviewed, the board went through a number of deadlocked votes on whether to rally or reduce the 10-day suspension. Half the board stood by the administration, while the other half maintained either that the student's guilt had not been proven beyond a reasonable doubt, or that the drug policy was too broadly drawn and the punishment in this case too severe for the circumstances of the incident.

Skeptical of the case presented by the administration, Director Stan Howe, of Bethel, voted against any punishment.

"There's some question whether the kid knew what he was doing," Dr. Howe said, "and when in doubt on a case like this, I have to vote, 'no.'"

Director Nancy Dewing, of Greenwood, argued that the board had the responsibility to support the administration when it attempted to enforce a policy the board had set.

"Even though there might have been some innocence, the guilt was well established," she said later. "The board has set the policy and the policy should be upheld."

Ultimately, Director Ray Harrington,

Ultimately, Director Ray Harrington,

of Greenwood, who had abstained from much of the voting, cast the deadlock-breaking vote on a successful motion to reduce the suspension to five days.

The board also discussed a suggestion from Newry Selectman Roger Hanscom to increase from two to three the number of directors from Newry.

The make-up of the board has remained the same since the district was formed in 1965. Bethel has six members on the board; Andover, Woodstock and Greenwood have three each and Newry has two.

Selectman Hanscom argued that Newry's representation on the board was inadequate in view of the town's increased assessment, its per pupil cost and its contribution to the district's budget.

Director John Brown, of Bethel, countered that, in terms of population, Newry already had far more representation than Bethel.

The directors requested Superintendent Craig to research the matter further with the state Department of Education.

In other matters, the board overwhelmingly backed Dr. Howe's motion to ban containers made of plastic foam (such as Styrofoam) within the district.

Superintendent Craig told the board members that Michael Delehanty, Telstar High School computer teacher and district computer curriculum coordinator, has been named a recipient of the 1988-89 Blaine House scholarship. The scholarship is a grant/loan program that will help Mr. Delehanty continue his work toward a master's degree in curriculum development with a specialization in computer applications.

The board also approved the following personnel appointments: Earl Lamoreau, as secondary math/science teacher; Donald Sandstrom, as a substitute teacher; Joyce Howe, Evelyn Morin and Gail Wight, as summer custodial workers; Carol Nielson, as Telstar Summer School Director; and the transfer of Jean McGuire to the Woodstock School, where she will be a Chapter 1 teacher.

The board also accepted the resignations of Rachel Desrochers (Ethel Busbee resource room), Helen Nevitt (elementary creative and talented) and Cherie Harrington (elementary physical education).

Board member Cheryl Elliot, of Bethel, did not attend Monday's meeting.

Newry voters decide to join ambulance group

At a sparsely attended special town meeting Monday night, Newry voters approved an article that would have the town join a non-profit corporation with 11 other area towns to own and operate an ambulance service.

The new corporation would take over the vehicles of Keegan Ambulance, which is going out of business, and operate them with the present Keegan staff.

The first meeting of the new corporation's directors is set for June 6. At their meeting yesterday (Tuesday), the Board of Selectmen appointed Willard Wight and Clifford Hillier director and alternate to the new corporation's board.

Two planning board articles also were passed by the 15 voters at the meeting. One extends shoreland zoning on Bear River from Branch Brook to the Grafton Township line. It restricts building within 250 feet of the river or within the 100-year floodplain, whichever is greater.

Additionally, the building code ordinance, which had a one-acre minimum for private one- or two-family dwellings plus 150-foot road frontage, was made more stringent by adding a requirement that the lot must be wide enough to encompass a 75-foot radius from the center of the property. This is to avoid having so-called "spaghetti lots," according to Planning Board Chairman Jim Sysko—that is, long, thin lots having proper road frontage and acreage but being basically long and thin.

BLOCKING THE PLATE—Telstar catcher Nathan Misericordi prepares to put the tag on a Mt. Abram baserunner early in last week's game. The catcher took a good hit on the play but held on to the ball for the out, ending the inning and shutting down a budding Roadrunner rally. The Rebels cruised to a 14-1 victory in the game. Going into this week's action, their league record is 7-2 and their overall record 10-4. The Rebels are now in a tie for first place in the Mountain Valley Conference and are ranked 2nd in Western Maine Class C. Coach Levi Brown expects a bye for the first round of the playoffs, which will probably begin for the Rebels next Friday, June 3, at their home field.

And still it rains. Julie Oja completed her studies at Cortland State University in Cortland, N.Y., on May 12, and after a two-week field trip, which is required, she will receive her diploma.

While the pastor is on a brief vacation, Ken Gudikins preached at both the West Paris Baptist Church and the North Paris Federated Church on Sunday, May 15. His sermon topic was "Trade sin for love." The call to worship was given by Harry Perkins, the call to offering by John Callina and responsive reading by Beryl Oja.

Locke Mills

By LORRAINE MILLS

The Greenwood Historical Society will meet Wednesday, June 1, at 7:30 p.m., at the Society building on Main Street. Well, folks, I tried. I called several homes with no results. I hope you were all out making news that can go in next week. Since husband John is in Center Harbor, N.H., this weekend at the Northern New England District Assemblies of God Men's retreat and I dispatch for Tri-Town Ambulance service on Saturdays, I have to get the news in tonight "Friday".

Mary Mills has been a patient at Stephens Memorial Hospital for tests and observation this week. We hope she is home by the time this paper comes out. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coolidge and Bethany spent last week out west. Glad to see Bob and Phyllis getting some time off to enjoy themselves.

Ralph Mills left Sunday, May 15, for home in Colchester, Vt., after spending the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mills. Other news of the Mills family: John and I were in East Duxfield, Thursday evening, attending a teachers' workshop at the home of Dot and Roger Chepping; and Lorraine Mills visited Thelma Merrill, Friday afternoon, at Ledgeview in West Paris.

On May 15 Adam Newell found a balloon launched by Anne Muscaian March 17 from Tesago Elementary School in Clifton Park, N.Y. Anne is in the 3rd Grade and was participating in Weekly Reader's "Writing Pals Balloon Contest".

Crescent Park weekly

By ALEX GILLIES

The Crescent Park Softball Team is doing well. We haven't won a game yet, but we've improved our skill and had a great time. We had another game yesterday.

The 4th Grade has a science project due on May 27. Most of us have our reports and posters finished. We're not finished with most of our models or demonstration. All of this rain means inside recess and inside recess is a good time to work on projects.

I took a survey of 23 kids and two teachers to see what was the most and least favorite school lunches. Pizza won by far for the favorite; out of 23 people only three didn't pick pizza for their favorite. The least favorite was the fishburger; it got eight votes for least favorite.

Coming up in June is Carnival Day. We're having a track and field competition. We had to sign up for three or more activities. They were separated so the girls were against girls and boys against boys. Some people think that it should be boys against girls.

On May 19 all of the SAD #44 elementary students went to a concert called "Schooner Fare." Everyone especially liked the song that went "There was a rash on a flea, on a wing, on a bird, on an egg, in the nest, on the leaf, on the twig, on the branch, on the limb, on the trunk, on the tree, in the bog, in the valley-oh." The way they sang it was fast and very funny.

Abadabadaba. That's all folks.

Group discusses day care to ease labor shortage

The diversified economic development committee that grew out of last October's Citizens Community Conference met Monday evening at the Casco Bank to discuss ways to help alleviate the area's labor shortage by creating more child care services.

Joyce Crockett, new project coordinator for Oxford County's Child Care Resource Development Center, presented an overview of licensing rules and regulations as well as funding possibilities, including opportunities to take part in new programs still being discussed by state officials to aid communities in starting up new child care facilities. The development center she is heading up is one of six created by the Maine Legislature to help communities and employers provide better child care services and to act as a clearinghouse of information for individuals seeking such services.

Discussion at the meeting focused on the possibilities of starting up new community day care facilities and on enlisting the help of businesses who would benefit from an improved child care system, helping them, perhaps, to form consortiums to provide common services or give vouchers towards purchasing child care services. Mrs. Crockett pointed out that a nationwide survey showed that companies offering child care benefits had significantly reduced turnover and absenteeism and improved recruitment, public relations, morale and productivity. Maine industry, she said, loses an estimated $3 million to $8 million per year because of employee absences due to inadequate child care. As a first step, the Bethel

LOCAL GIRL SCOUT LEADER TO ATTEND EVENT IN CANADA

A local Girl Scout leader from Bethel has been chosen to attend Echo Valley '88, an international Girl Scout event in Saskatchewan, Canada. Leslie Cooley, leader of Bethel Brownie Troop 165, is a member of one of the 15 patrols of 10 girls and two adults selected to represent the United States.

group, with the help of the Chamber of Commerce, is planning a community survey of child care needs to determine what kinds of programs are needed.

Other issues discussed at the meeting included the formation of business "hatcheries," places where businesses can begin with lower overhead than they would if they had to create their own facilities.

Bethel Town Manager Rodney Lynch pointed out that such facilities were successful in areas such as Lewiston-Auburn because the large buildings available allowed start-up businesses to share common services such as secretaries, telephones, and duplicating machines, but the lack of such buildings in the Bethel area would hinder such a program. Shirley Hodsdon is researching successful "hatcheries" in smaller communities and will report back to the group.

The group also discussed the issue of preserving farmland for working farmers as a desirable goal for a diverse economy. Bill Clough described programs in New Hampshire that have been successful in allowing farmers to continue their traditional occupations in areas where tourism and land prices have increased dramatically in recent years.

ERNESTINE AND BILL RILEY are the owners of the Pine Sider Lodge, on the Gore Road.

This is your Chamber of Commerce

Each week, this column will spotlight a different member of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce. The purpose is to give some understanding about the various fields of endeavor of the Chamber members.

Bill and Ernestine Riley's Pine-Sider Lodge is located on the southwest shore of Woodstock's North Pond, on the Gore Road—very close to the village of Locke Mills.

The Rileys' first dwelling was destroyed when snow build-up buckled the roof and sides during the winter of 1968, when Bill was employed by the Arabian American Oil Co. in Saudi Arabia. Ernestine almost immediately began the design aspect of the present facility so that the first increment of the planned quadruplex was completed in June of 1971. Further construction in 1978-80 included the second and third phases, providing three full housekeeping rental apartments along with the owner's unit.

Rental operations began in earnest in 1980, when Bill retired from teaching in Rhode Island and the Rileys took up permanent residence at the Pine-Sider. As the years passed, the patronage increased steadily, especially from repeat reservations. Presently, summer guests enjoy trail hiking, fishing, canoeing, sailing, and island swimming. Although the property does not have a sandy beach, the 24-foot above-ground pool provides pleasant and convenient bathing with the various flotation devices.

The winter season brings both alpine and cross country skiers, along with a lesser number of snowmobilers.

In the last few years, Bill and Ernestine have also become rental agents for an ever-increasing number of vacation properties, which enables them to offer an extensive list of condominiums, farm houses, ski houses, cabins, and chalets, to callers seeking short-term use of housekeeping units in

INN EMPLOYEE NAMED STATE'S TOP EMPLOYEE IN RECREATION

Barbara James, of The Bethel Inn & Country Club, was awarded the Maine Vacation Travel Commission's 1988 Outstanding Tourism Employee Award in the Recreation category.

Presented at the group's annual dinner in Bangor, last week, the award recognizes employees who contribute exceptional service to a guest, employer or community directly involved in tourism.

A member of The Bethel Inn staff since 1982, Mrs. James was nominated on the strength of her performance in a number of administrative positions during her six years of employment.

Currently the executive secretary to the owner and general manager, her most noted contribution was document preparation and sales coordination of 49 newly constructed condominium units. Her participation in the Inn's $7.6 million expansion was beyond her normal responsibilities, and her exceptional service to both the development manager and condo owners was cited as efficient and personable.

Barbara and husband Dick have been Bethel residents for 20 years. Adopting the community as their home town, they raised four children in the community and are active in both school and sports-related activities.

Don Bennett, the Inn's accommodation manager, won the statewide outstanding employee award in 1988.

Art by local adults will also be on display. Anyone interested in attending this show is cordially invited to do so.

The 199th birthday of Dr. Moses Mason will be celebrated Sunday, May 29, at the Dr. Moses Mason House, 2-4 p.m. Featured during the afternoon will be craft demonstrations and refreshments. This year also marks the 175th anniversary of the construction of the Dr. Moses Mason House. This milestone will be observed by a special exhibit and by a lecture on the history of the house. Everyone is welcome.

The next monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society will be held on June 2 in the meeting room, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Featured during the program portion of the meeting will be a presentation by the Bicentennial Dancers of Conway, N.H. Dressed in the fashions of the 1850s, the dancers will demonstrate the transition from the 18th century through the 19th century, with collars, lancers, quadrilles and contras. All interested persons are cordially invited to attend.

Society member Adeline Clough reports that the new printing of "Genealogy of the Descendants of John Clough of Salisbury, Massachusetts" is now available. Inquiries should be directed to her at RFD #2, Box 910, Bethel 04217, or call 836-2575.

As the Dr. Moses Mason House will open for afternoon tours beginning July 1, volunteers are now needed. Anyone interested in assisting the Society in staffing the museum, should call the office, at 824-2908. Guides are provided with detailed information on the house and can participate in an orientation process scheduled this year on Thursday, June 9, at 2 p.m., in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House. This experience provides the prospective volunteer with the opportunity to learn about old houses and their furnishings as well as about life in the 19th century, particularly in this section of Maine.

Songo Pond

By ALICE KIMBALL

Mrs. Louise Newton attended the Dick Curless show in Gorham, N.H., last Friday night, a benefit for the Historical Society there. She is also very proud of the four-pound red-spot trout she caught this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wike, of Gardiner, were visitors here Tuesday. Mrs. Evelyn Kimball visited her sister, Mrs. Lillian Kimball, in South Paris, Wednesday.

The annual meeting of the Songo Cemetery Association was held Wednesday evening with David Salway, President Earlon Keniston conducted the business. Mary Keniston read the secretary's report and Alice Kimball the treasurer's report. Other business taken up was the mowing, a food sale this summer, a new sign and markers for unmarked lots. All officers were re-elected. Mrs. Maxine Brown and Mrs. Phyllis Bancroft also attended.

I went to Otisfield last Sunday and returned home Monday afternoon and went to Rumford Thursday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Barker of South Paris called on the Jimmy Kimballs Saturday evening. Sunday visitors there were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fox, of Lovell.

Mrs. Christine Kimball was at the Bridgton Hospital, Thursday, to visit her newest great-granddaughter, Kori Faye Boyd, born to Mrs. Cheryl Boyd, of Denmark, daughter of Mrs. Alberta Ridlon of Norway.

THE RECENTLY COMPLETED board room in the new addition of the Bethel Savings Bank was dedicated at the last meeting of the Board of Directors of the bank. It will be known as the E. Louise Lincoln Board Room, in honor of Mrs. Lincoln, who recently resigned from the board. Mrs. Lincoln served many years as a dedicated and faithful incorporator, trustee, and—more recently—director of the bank. She was the first woman to serve as trustee or director and was given emeritus status on her retirement. She is pictured above receiving a certificate of appreciation from Board Chairman Dr. John W. Trinward.

High Street

By VIVA WHITMAN

Just another of those cloudy damp mornings when it looks like it could rain at any moment. How I wish it would and then clear out so everyone could feel better, including myself.

It is a pretty sight to ride along the roads and see all the flowers that are blooming now. The tulips are so pretty along with the yellow of jonquils and other flowers. Grace has some tulips that are two-toned and they are very pretty. Our bleeding heart is blossoming and it is getting more beautiful every day. Russell made two plants out of it this year and both are blooming now and I'm sure by next year the second plant will be doing much better than it has this year so far. His rose bushes are showing growth so they should be pretty later on. Of course, this is the first year for them, but they seem to be doing well as are some of his other plants.

Set out 25 strawberry plants and they were very small, but everyone of them seems to be all right and growing good. You expect to lose one or two plants in the process of setting them out, but not one of those perished out, and some of them were mighty small. Just shows what good plants they are, I guess. Rhubarb is up and ready to eat and I made sauce out of some the other day. It is better than that we froze last year, but that is still good and will be used up in time. Have to freeze more this year for sauce during the winter.

Had to make a call on Dr. Knopp last Thursday to get a little help for my back before going to Lewiston for the weekend. Wynona came for me on Friday and I went for the weekend. Friday night was Courtney's dance recital as well as Friday being Kariann's birthday. A big three years old and very proud of it. It makes her a big girl now so she can do more things, and she won't let her mother forget it either.

After the recital that we stayed to see, there was work to be done on the float that the Adult Education was preparing for the Maine State Parade on Saturday. Didn't stay to see too much of the recital as the girls were to be on the float with the mother and father.

Saturday was a busy day. Mike and Nomi left the house early to work on the float and get it ready for the parade, along with others who were helping. I stayed home to be with the girls till it was time for them to go for the parade. Luz, Nomi's secretary, was on the float and came to get the girls to take them where the float was. Left alone, I made a cake for Kariann's party the next day. At 1 p.m., I started the tape Mike had made ready so they could see the parade afterward. I watched the parade and it was real nice. Many floats and all very good. Also many bands and they were all good. I saw Courtney and a friend sitting on the float for the Adult Ed of Auburn. "Learning to read for kid's sake" was the theme of the float and it showed the classroom with adults learning; next was the group with the graduates and then the living room with parents reading to their children. The children were all waving and calling to all to learn to read. Every float was a pleasure to see and showed how much work went into the decorating of the large trucks that carried them. Not a small job at all, but what a nice time was had by all and that included the camera crew from Channel 6.

Sunday morning we got ready for company to come to dinner. Nomi had prepared a turkey for roasting the night before and we had gotten Kariann's birthday cake decorated. I had vacuumed and dusted for Nomi during the afternoon on Saturday so the house didn't have to be all cleaned Sunday morning. It was fun to see the girls' faces when I asked them if they would like a surprise, and, of course, they said "yes." I had made them each a special dress and had them ready for them so took them to Courtney's room for the surprise. I had them close their eyes and as soon as I had a dress in front of each of them, I told them to open their eyes which I had made them close. The "oh's" were so nice to hear and the girls looked so pretty in their new dresses for the day that it was worth all the trouble of making them. Peggy, Russell, David, Mabel, Christopher, Jonathan and Kimberly were the guests who came for dinner and we had a great party as we had expected more for dinner. All was enjoyed and so were the gifts afterward. Courtney has a birthday this coming Sunday but got some gifts last Sunday just the same. Makes it a little easier at their ages. It was a good day. Came home with Russell and Peggy after all was over.

Monday morning, Russell and I went with Peggy to see Lawrence and Grace off on their trip. They were meeting friends at Ames and all heading out for Colorado and then two of the motor homes would go on to Alaska after meeting another who was going to Alaska and she were brother-in-law, when well as we. He had two w for an fibros alime. Rus ed ar, be ai weath go ov it drie anyw, as spi plant crazy for th. It i differ ty as i color the be of see ing a. New done what better Did West but su to m Peggy Green crowd Lots t all an so tak week.

They were meeting friends at Ames and all heading out for Colorado and then two of the motor homes would go on to Alaska after meeting another who was going to Alaska with them. They are all friends and should have a wonderful time. They were going to stop to visit Tom, our brother, on the way. He lives in Kremmling, Colorado, and is expecting them when they get there. We hope all goes well and that they all have a great time.

Went to see Dr. Jealous on Tuesday as he had gotten back from being away the two weeks before. This weather is good for arthritis and certainly good for the fibrositis. Humidity is bad for all of those ailments.

Russell has gotten the garden fertilized and rototilled it yesterday so hope to be able to start planting when the weather permits. Will probably have to go over it again with the rototiller when it dries out a little, but it is mostly ready anyway. Peas are up and growing as well as spinach and some of the chard. His plants in the cold frames are growing like crazy and will be ready when he is ready for them.

It is so green around now and all the different shades of green make it as pretty as it is in the fall with all the different colors. It is hard to tell which season is the best, but I certainly like the beauty of seeing things come alive after sleeping all winter.

New sidewalks in Norway are getting done and look great. Not all done yet but what are very nice and look much better.

Didn't get to the flea and food sale at West Paris Grange Hall last Saturday but sure hope they had good luck. Just too much to do to get to everything.

Peggy and Russell did go dancing at Greene and said they had the largest crowd so far since they have been going. Lots to do and not enough time to do it all and that is the biggest problem of all so take care everyone and have a good week.

By COLISTA MORGAN
Summer—we in Maine wait and yearn for it through snow and cold. Then all of a sudden it's gone and we wish we had made more of it. Maine summers are really beautiful. The long days, so blue and golden, are filled with the songs of birds and the fragrances of flowers. The short deep-blue nights are cool and the sky studded with stars. Sometimes it is cool enough to cause the northern lights. This nocturnal beauty becomes more delicate, more ethereal, while lifting into the sky in long streamers and shafts, tilting toward the firmament high into the heavens. It curves across the northern sky extending high or low in vertical streamers waving and shimmering. The light at times is tinged with yellow, other times with green, claving for the stars. They vary in number; sometimes seen in four and again in as many as 12.

Last week I saw and heard over and over again the Eastern Mockingbird. He is the king of songs. I had never seen or heard one before this day. Once you have heard this most gifted singer you will know that he equals and even exceeds the whole feathered choir.

It's May and the out-of-doors is coming to life. There is fragrance of the damp earth, fresh water and growing things. Sniff and enjoy a million bottles of perfume.

I became happy as I walked up a little trail toward the ledges. They were low under towering hemlocks and dense mixed growth.

I made friends with the red squirrel with a few seeds from my pocket, as I sat motionless and talked softly to him. For sometime I looked at the newly washed outdoors, the fat fleecy clouds, floating slowly across the bright blue pond, then walked loose-legged across the ledge toward the Spring Road.

The out-of-doors—it is big and clean and lovely; so many little things constantly before us that we give only a passing thought or notice at all. Things like crumbling walls, proud forests, water borrowing beauty from the sky, moon's golden carpet across a lake, deer flashing a white flag, winging ducks and many, many more.

East Bethel

Alder River Grange will meet Friday, May 27, at the Grange Hall, at 7:30 p.m.

Upton

By ARLINE BERNIER
Margaret Mitchell arrived at 4 p.m., Thursday. We were toting a load of garden enrichment but she had a hug for each of us.

Mardie Edwards gets up early, as a big, she-bear comes for bird feed—demolishing feeders, gobbling up bags of seed and leaving claw marks in the window screen. She's been armed with a snap camera, a movie camera and a loaded gun, just in case bruiin decides to get unbearably friendly and come in to remodel her house.

Other folks in town have been visited by bears. There's no satisfactory answer to the question of why bears have come near dwellings so much the last few years. Previously they were seldom seen.

Melanie Farmer, of Temple, and Danielle Bernier, of East Bethel, visited at Heritage Farm on Sunday, May 8, Mother's Day. Flossie Bernier, of East Bethel, and Laurie visited Saturday.

The Senior Citizen dinner in Andover was delightful, as we were fortunate to have as seat-mate a long-time resident of Upton and friend, Vera Thompson.

Local students to attend Boys State June 19-24

Mundt Allen Post #81, American Legion of Bethel, this week announced the delegates and alternates to Boys State, to be held at University of Maine at Orono, June 19-24.

The Post is sponsoring Nathan Bean and Michael O'Meara. The Bethel Rotary Club is sponsoring Jamie Blake. The Bethel Lions Club is sponsoring Brant Remington. The alternates are James Merrill and Stanley Moore.

The Boys State students were selected on the basis of leadership, scholarship, honor, loyalty, friendship and service to their school.

Alaska with them. They are all friends and should have a wonderful time. They were going to stop to visit Tom, our brother, on the way. He lives in Kremmling, Colorado, and is expecting them when they get there. We hope all goes well and that they all have a great time.

Went to see Dr. Jealous on Tuesday as he had gotten back from being away the two weeks before. This weather is good for arthritis and certainly good for the fibrositis. Humidity is bad for all of those ailments.

Russell has gotten the garden fertilized and rototilled it yesterday so hope to be able to start planting when the weather permits. Will probably have to go over it again with the rototiller when it dries out a little, but it is mostly ready anyway. Peas are up and growing as well as spinach and some of the chard. His plants in the cold frames are growing like crazy and will be ready when he is ready for them.

It is so green around now and all the different shades of green make it as pretty as it is in the fall with all the different colors. It is hard to tell which season is the best, but I certainly like the beauty of seeing things come alive after sleeping all winter.

New sidewalks in Norway are getting done and look great. Not all done yet but what are very nice and look much better.

Didn't get to the flea and food sale at West Paris Grange Hall last Saturday but sure hope they had good luck. Just too much to do to get to everything.

Peggy and Russell did go dancing at Greene and said they had the largest crowd so far since they have been going. Lots to do and not enough time to do it all and that is the biggest problem of all so take care everyone and have a good week.

The Bethel Rotary Club

will be held on Saturday, June 4th at Telstar.
Donations of quality items, antiques, "attic treasures", gift certificates, etc. are needed. Please contact Dave Murphy at 824-2041 to arrange for pick up.
Funds raised will go towards scholarships and other club sponsored activities.
Thank You

Other friends were at the same table and we enjoyed some lively conversation.

Carol Lebreque, of Akers Pond, in Errol, has opened her home for Bible study on Saturday evenings. It seems great to be back in this type of activity. A pair of mourning doves are frequenting Backstreet. Another newcomer specie in this area.

Sunday, May 15, was the 33rd anniversary of the independence of Austria following occupation by the Nazis during World War II and the struggle for control by Russia. I thought you'd like to know that.

Hummingbirds returned Sunday. We went on a woods road tour to Tyler Cove. The place has changed so as to be hardly recognizable since I was there. Very little sandy beach left.

A STRIKING FOLLOW-THROUGH—Star Telstar pitcher Heidi Belanger streaks the ball toward a Mexico batter during a game last week. Unfortunately for the home team, the Pintos solved Heidi's delivery, rapping in 10 runs and handing the Rebels only their 2nd loss of the season. Going into the final week of the season, the playoff-bound Rebels were 7-2 in the the Mountain Valley Conference and 12-2 overall, and were ranked 2nd in both their conference and in Western Maine Class C. Playoff action is expected to begin next Friday, June 3, at the Telstar field.

6th-graders take to field, stream and woods

The 6th Grade students at Telstar Middle School and some volunteer parents spent the past three weeks walking fields, stream beds, marshes and forests. It was all part of an ecosystem study the students were involved in.

The study involved identifying plants, trees, animals, insects, algae, protozoans, soil types, pollution and examples of erosion.

The students were very successful with their study with help from volunteer parents and grandparents.

The students brought in samples of evergreen trees, seedlings, grass, fiddleheads and algae. Their live animals consisted of frog and salamander eggs, worms, water spiders, flies and snapping turtles.

Each group of students made an aquarium with their findings, and when they finished the project, they returned the plants and animals back to their environment.

So. Woodstock

By OLIVE R. DAVIS

John Miclon, who has been in law enforcement at South Paris for 12 years, has been promoted from sergeant to lieutenant, as of May 12. He has been assigned to the criminal division of the Sheriff's Department.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Verrill went to South Lancaster, Saturday, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Erlon Blood and to attend the graduation of their daughter-in-law, Carole Verrill. This was held outdoors and a beautiful spring day accommodated the graduation. Their granddaughter, Brianne Verrill, went with them also. She is Brian Verrill's daughter.

Olive Davis went to Bridgton, Saturday afternoon, to her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews. She attended the Downstate Barbershop Chorus at City Hall, Portland with Dick Goldsmith, who was one of the participants in the chorus. Several quartets sang also. It was a very enjoyable evening. She returned home Sunday afternoon.

Sunday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews held a birthday party for their two daughters, Sharon Goldsmith and Nancy Smith, as their birthdays are a week apart. Cake and ice cream were served and the opening of gifts enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Morse and mother, Ruth Barnett of South Paris, visited Mr. and Mrs. Leon Verrill, Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks and Esther Davis attended the Historical Society meeting Saturday evening. Mrs. Parsons was the speaker of the night. She told about the kitchen table industry which she and her husband organized in 1979 at their West Bethel home. The industry is the making of the game, Ta-Ka-Radi, constructed from small wooden tiles. It has grown from sale of 20 games the first year to 20,000 games last year. They employ six local women part time.

Patricia Tibbets and her mother, Esther Davis, attended a baby shower for Mrs. Tony Bennett held at the home of Mr. and

Mrs. Timmy Bennett, Lettie Brooks and Olive Davis were at Franklin Grange, Monday night. The gardens are slow in sprouting. I guess the weather is too cold for them. Perhaps we are too hurried and planting too early. Memorial Day is about on and should be planting time.

From the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

Executive Director Robin Zinchuk reports:
The Board of Directors met Thursday, May 12, for our regular monthly meeting. The Community Relations Committee reported that the mailing for the business booklet has been done and we are receiving the responses. The deadline for sending them in is the end of this week. The cover for the booklet is going to be designed by students in a pilot art program in our schools. Arla Patch has been very cooperative and innovative with this. Thanks Arla.

Once printed, these booklets will be available free to all residents of the area. We are hoping it will become our "yellow pages" of services, or "yellow pages" of our area.

The Brochure Committee reported that half of the brochure is at the printers and we're busy finishing up with the rest. Hopefully, it will be complete within a couple of weeks.

The Mollycokett Day Committee reported that they have been busy finding a sponsor for the Woodsmen's Competition. We plan to organize and hold the road race and also have our lobster rolls on the Common. Bill Barter has offered to be the chairman for the Chamber's activities that day.

The Long Range Planning Committee has decided to wait until the new board gets elected to set a date for a meeting. We have several new members. Welcome to Blueberry Mtn. Inn (formerly the Telemark Inn), Casablanca Video, Taka Rall Tiles, Epping North Motel, Tim Hutchins, Woodstock Wilderness Experience and Andover Wood Products.

Also reported were plans to have a breakfast meeting with a representative from the Canadian Consulate, Brian Watson. He will speak to all interested on the Canadian-U.S. Free Trade Agreement and how it affects our area businesses. John Elliot and Dick Wagner from CMP and the Maine Development Foundation ## heart-Remember?

What happened? I'm still the same Old Flag! Oh, I have a few more stars since you were a boy; a lot more blood has been shed since those parades of long ago; but, now I don't feel as proud as I used to.

When I come down the street, you just stand there with your hands in your pockets, and I may get a small glance and then you look away. Then I see the children running around and shouting. They don't seem to know who I am. I saw one man take his hat off, then look around; he didn't see anyone else doing it, so he quickly put his back on.

Is it a sin to be patriotic anymore? Have you forgotten what I stand for and where I've been? Anzio, Guadalcanal, Korea and Vietnam. Take a look at the Memorial Honor Rolls some time—the lists of those who never came back in order to keep this republic "free"—One Nation Under God. When you salute me, you are actually saluting them!

Well—it won't be long until I'll be coming down your street again. So, when you see me, stand straight, place your right hand over your heart—and I'll salute you by waving back—and I'll know that you remember!

THE AMERICAN LEGION SAYS...

Remember Me?

Some people call me Old Glory—some call me the Star Spangled Banner. Whatever they call me, I am your flag—The Flag of the United States of America! But, something's been bothering me—so I thought I might talk with you—because it is about you and me. I remember, some time ago, people lined up on both sides of the street to watch the parade, and naturally I was leading every parade, waving proudly in the breeze!

When your daddy saw me coming, he immediately removed his hat and placed his hand directly over his heart—Remember?

And I remember you—standing there straight as a soldier? You didn't have a hat, but you were giving the right salute. Remember little sister? Not to be outdone, she was saluting the same as you—with her right hand over her
